BUSINESS AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CENTER

AN EDA UNIVERSITY CENTER

The Business and Economic Development Center (BEDC), attached to the University of Puerto Rico (UPR) at Mayagüez, College of Business Administration, is a program established in 1986 with the purpose of promoting economic and business development throughout the island.

Our mission is to promote the development of a business ecosystem that mobilizes the multidisciplinary human and technical resources available at UPR in order to stimulate innovation, entrepreneurship (I&E), and economic development.

The Business and Economic Development Center services include:

ASSISTANCE FOR: STARTUP & EXISTING BUSINESSES

- Technical assistance.
- Business Training (face-to-face and online).
- Referrals and support to incubation programs.
- Mentoring to business competitions.

I&E ECOSYSTEM

Through the UPRM E-ship Network, we provide support to entrepreneurs and innovators with:

- Events and strategic collaborations with entrepreneurs, state agencies, municipal governments or community organizations to promote an ecosystem that support.
- These events could include seminars, workshops, certifications, virtual mentoring, among others.
